Following is a brief synopsis of the report of the grand Jury:

The first indictment against J. B. Jemings, alias J. W. Jemings, is for perfury aleged to have been committed on the 17th day of July, 18%, in the district court of this county, in the case of Gldeon Snyder vs. J. B. Jemings. This indictment is in three counts.

The first count charges that, on the day and in the case above named, J. B. Jemings failed stated that he was enuloyed by G. B. McDonald of Banch, Kane country, in an action entitled B. McDonald et al. vs. Jedediah Adair et al., on or about the 28th of May, 188, whereas in truth and fact he was not no employed by G. B. McDonald until the month of August 18%.

The second count charges that J. B. Jemings failed were not changed in any particular articles of copartnership existing between him and Snyder were needified by mutual agreement on or about the ist day of Soptember, 1886, whereas in truth and fact the articles of copartnership were not changed in any particular during the continuation of partner during the continuation of par

RICHFI7LD'S OBSERVANCE.

Memorial Services Participated In By the Schools

Richfield, May 39.-At 9 this morning fully a thousand persons formed into line, to celebrate Memorial day, and line, to oelebrate Memorial day, and decorate the graves of veterans, friends and relatives. The Richfield band furnished music; following the band came the four veterans of this city, Rev. J. H. Meteer, Niels Anderson, Ben Carter and Dr. G. W. Herbert. Following the veterans were the school children, all inden with flags and flowers; then came the Richfield lodge of Odd. Fellows, then citizens afoot, and lastly citizens in carriages. Both cemeteries were decorated, and about moon the procession marched to the public school house after patriotic airs, and disbanded. The high school, which closed last Friday, is having its closing exercises this afternoon and evening.

Decoration Day at Payson.

Payson, May 30.—Eusiness his been suspended here today in honor of the nation's dead. The cemetery is decorated with flowers. The local organization of the G. A. R. paraded at 2 p. m. with Mayor J. S. Page at head. A martial band was in the procession. Ten little girls, each ten years of age, placed flowers on the graves of the core of soldlers buried here—Union, Confederate and Indian fighters.

Burglars at Payson.

Payson, May 30.—Burglars entered the dwellings of several Payson people Sunday morning at an early hour. From Henry Smith they took a watch and a small amount of cash. The hotel was visited, but nothing of importance was missed. At other places the thieves were scured away.

Released From His Mission.

DEATH OF DAVID WILLIAMS.

Man Who Was Sorry He Had Preached Christianity.

(Epecial to The Peraid.)

Pocatello, May 20.—The funeral of the late Bishop David Williams, who died in Sait Lake City yesteroxy, will take place tomorrow from the residence of his son-in-law, Martin Olson, in this city. About two years ago Mr. Williams returned from a mission to England in the interests of the Mormon church, and on his return not only renounced Mormonism but the entire Christian faith. About three months ago he published a pampaiet, in which he attempted to dispreve the resurrection of Christ. Of late he has been much troubled by reason of the fact that he had for some years taught what he then considered error and was preparing to make a trip to England, the scene of his former missionary labors, to unsay all that he had said there. He was 53 years old.

MUCH DISCUSSION OF TREATY WITH ENGLAND.

proved a great drawing card, and con-tributed largely to the success of the patriotic demonstration ever witnessed in this place.

But the Diplomats Have Not Taken the Matter Up—A Reciprocity the Matter Up-A Reciprocity Treaty Will Soon Be Concluded.

> Washington, May 30 .- Inquiry at the embassy, falls to develop any substan-tial basis for the supposition that ne-gotiations are afoot looking to a close tial basis for the supposition that negotiations are afoot looking to a close compact between the United States and Great Britain, covering all possible subjects of differences, conferring special trade privileges on both parties, providing for the joint use of the Nicaraguan canal, and embracing what would amount to an alliance, offensive and defensive, to the end that Great Britain may enjoy in peace her Asiatic possessions, while the United States with have a share of the trade in that quarter, and will be secured also in the application of the Monroe doctrine. All of these subjects have been discussed from tims to time in the press of the United States and England, and the probable basis at this time is to be found in Mr. Chamberlain's speech, recently delivered, which has aroused so much interest on both hemispheres. So far as the Nicaraguan canal is concerned, it is pointed out that if the United States contemplated a joint use of that means of communication, there would be no necessity for including such a provision in a treaty, inasmuch as the same result would be attained by a simple affirmation that the Clayton-Buller treaty, under the terms of which both the United States and Great Britain declared for joint control of any waterway to be constructed in the future, is still in force.
> The trade relations are even now being adjusted on a new basis, through the drafting of an agreement between Sir Julian Paumeefote for Great Britain, and Mr. Kasson for the United States, under the terms of reciprocity of the Dingley bill. This has advanced almost to completion, and the result may be proclaimed within the next week, unless some inforescen delays are encountered.
> The talk of a union on an interpretation of the Monroe doctrine is rather sentimental than practical, at this stage, and there is the best authority for the statement that the subject has not been broached in any manner in the diplomatic exchanges of the two governments since the celebrated passage between Secretary Olivey and the Marquis of Sal ompact between the United States and there has been any change in the policy of our own government, which, while animated by the kindlest feelings towards the British, and appreciating what has been done by Great British to liberalize Chinese trade, has confined its efforts to the single object of protecting American trade from invidious discrimination—and, so far, it is believed, with signal success. By the British officials here much satisfaction is felt at the conspicuous growth of friendship by the English-speaking people on both sides of the water, but it is the view in these circles that it is a healthy and desirable growth, which cannot find immediate cles that it is a healthy and desirable growth, which cannot find immediate expression in formal treaties or conventions.

Such larger results are hoped for in the course of time as the result of public culnion. Meantime there is a disposition to adopt a conservative view as to what should be attempted at the present moment. The report that farreaching agreements are under consideration or about to be made are looked upon as very prejudical to the accomplishment of any real result. As stated by a leading diplomatic official today, radical criticism of Great Britain has apparently given away to radical symapparently given away to radical sympathy and in both cases this radicalism misleads people in mixing false expectations and false fears, and serves to defeat those conservative results which are secured only by patience and by mature deliberation.

ANOTHER ALLIANCE SCHEME. England, Germany and America to Join Hands. New York, May 30.-A dispatch to the Herald from Berlin says: "I am in a position to inform you that the English officials' expression of friend-ship to Germany, ambiguously referred to by Joseph Chamberlain at Birming-ham, were of most decided character, in fact, they have taken official as well as non-official Germany rather by sur-prise.

"It is even asserted here that the project includes a possible colonial con-cession of great value to Germany, presumably as the price for drawing Germany away from Russia.

"I have also authority for the statement that the idea of England, Germany and America joining hands is being seriously entertained, not so much here as in Washington and London, whence it is forced on German attention.

REVENUE BILL DISCUSSED.

Committee Unanimous Against Hawaiian and Other Amendments.

Washington, May 20 -The senate com Washington, May 28.—The senate committee on finance was in seession for three hours today considering amendments which have been suggested to the war revenue Bill. The time was spent intrely in an exchange of views upon the policy of accepting any amendments which are not germane to the bill, the result being a determination to accept more such of whatever character. The talk was directed especially towards the amendments of Senator Lodge for the amendment of Senator Lodge for the mendment of Senator Lodge for the mendment of Senator Several May 19 towards the mendment of Senators of Senator Morgan, providing for a form of spenting the was a general expression of opinion that they should not be accepted by the cummittee. There was no dissenting view from this policy. Senators favorable personally to the various amendments arread with those who were not that with the door once opened to changes not perfectly the send would be indefinitely postposed. The committee also discussed to some extent amendments suggressing changes of the method of the tuxing of transactions in stock and grain exchanges and insurance brokers, but decided to leave the provisions relating to these subjects as they now stand. The only two changes of importance decided upon related to drugs and to receipts. The amendment regarding receipts exempt, receipts for amounts below 55 and that in relation to drugs is a verbal change, making clearer the meaning of the committee that drugs and proprietary articles should be taxed only when soid. When sold also a virtual understanding that if the Gorman amendment should be adopted by the senate there would be still further changes in the stamp tax, as in that event it will not be necessary to collect so large a sum on stamps.

The committee is divided on the Gorman amendment.
